Oregon Battle of the Books
2017
Willamette Primary

OBOB is a reading program designed to expose students to new books, working with, and competing on, a team. The third graders read from a list of eight books on a team of four students. They will compete in a series of quiz-like sessions with questions about the book content. The OBOB program is an extra curricular program managed by the PTA, however, it is supported and encouraged by Willamette teachers. Reading will be done at home, and team meetings can be held after school. Battles will take place during the school day at lunch and recess times. Each team will battle roughly five times during the end of January and throughout February, and then will participate in a final battle the first week in March.
